Room allocation + availability : Quick clarification on the Tunis accommodation, I proposed splitting the group across two properties in the same village: Dar Turki (private palace guesthouse) and Dar Saïd (boutique hotel), both in Sidi Bou Saïd, less than a 5-minute walk from each other. The rates I shared are per room per night, not per person.

Incredible, thank you for the clarification - we'd ideally love to have everyone stay in the same place, do you think that would be possible in Tunis? I think it'd become a very different kind of experience if not, so would love to optimize for that if possible.

Dates: October 19–26: Noted and no worries on the change. I'm checking availability at the selected properties for these dates and will confirm with you as soon as possible.

Thank you so much!

Day 3, Maya's olive farm: We have two options: either remove it from the programme entirely, or keep the olive farm as a morning visit only and skip Testour and Dougga, leaving the afternoon free. What do you think works best for the group?

I'd lean towards visiting Maya's farm(s) from morning until 3/4pm, and then skipping both.

Adding 5–10 more guests: Absolutely possible. The experiences and transfers scale easily. Accommodation is the main variable; once you have a clearer number, I'll adjust the room plan accordingly.

Meals: For days when meals are not included in the experience, budget around $50 per person per day on average (excluding drinks). I'll follow up shortly with detailed options for pre-selecting restaurants and menus for the full trip, which will give you a clear all inclusive budget.

Amazing, thank you for the clarification on both.

Super excited for this :)

Hey Raïssa,

Just chatted with the team and we'd love to move forward with Dar Turki and Diar Abou Habibi.

Regarding room allocation, we can take care of it - however, knowing how many of each room there are available would be super helpful.

We'd love to negotiate a better rate if we have the leverage to for a larger group discount? Let me know what's possible - we want to ideally get it down to $125 per person per night on average if that can be done.

Regarding timing, we've had a few conflicts with things and no would like to aim for the 3rd week of October (the 19th - 26th). Let us know if these accommodations are still possible - apologies as we just found this out, but we are set on this timing now and can promise that it won't change.

Regarding day 3, it seems like maya's olive farm might take the whole day (and we'd want to leave for time to chill, so would it be possible to take it out of the quote?)

Also - if we wanted to add 5-10 more folks to the trip, how possible would it be? Just planning generally right now.

Last thing! Is it possible to understand how much it would be to have lunch included and/or dinner included all days?

Best,
Ami

Hi Ami, Coco and Maya,

I wanted to follow up on the accommodation overview I sent over. We really need to move forward on this as availability won't hold indefinitely. I've already put an option on the Dar Turki suites, but can't hold them for too long.

Could you let me know how you'd like to proceed with the room allocation? As soon as we have that, I can confirm the reservations and lock everything in.

Also attached to this email:

- An updated programme: Day 3 has been revised to include a visit to Maya's olive groves + optional: visits to Testour and Dougga

- An updated experience quotation with the new itinerary.

Looking forward to hearing from you.

Kind regards,

Hi,

Please find attached the accommodation overview for the trip.

For Tunis, we propose two properties in the village of Sidi Bou Saïd: a private palace guesthouse, Dar Turki, and a boutique hotel, Dar Saïd. Each suite at Dar Turki is presented individually as they all have unique character. At Dar Saïd, we suggest two room categories. Rates are included for both properties.

For Tozeur, you will find a presentation of the different lodges at Diar Abou Habibi. All lodges offer the same level of comfort. Configurations vary slightly depending on the number of guests, but all are well-appointed and set within the palmeraie.

Regarding the programme, we are updating Day 3 to replace the Carthage and Sidi Bou Saïd visit with an excursion to the olive groves, the historic town of Testour, and the Roman site of Dougga, one of the best preserved sites in North Africa. Here is the updated itinerary at a glance:

Day 1: Arrival, Sidi Bou Saïd

Day 2: The Medina, Tunis

Day 3: Olive groves, Testour & Dougga

Day 4: A Day at Sea, Cap Bon

Day 5: Tozeur

Day 6: A Night with the Nomads, Sahara Desert

Day 7: Farewell Tunisia

I will be back in touch shortly with the updated full programme and experience quotation.

Let us know what the total cost will be with accommodations - thank you!

Hi Ami,

Sorry for the delay, I've been on a scouting trip, with little network. I messaged you via WhatsApp yesterday on the road back to suggest a call. I'm now back and fully available, so don't hesitate to call anytime today.

I'll be sharing the accommodation quotation later today as well. The one you've already received covers the experiences, transfers and some meals. As mentioned in my last email, we can also pre-select menus and restaurants once the programme is confirmed, that way you'll have a clear all inclusive budget from the start.

Best,

Hey All!

Coco and I discussed and have a few questions:

Would it be possible to only go to three cities /places maximum? Just want to make sure folks are well rested throughout the whole experience.

Would it also be possible to condense it to 7 days maximum? I'm thinking a city experience, a sea / water experience, and a dessert / sand based experience.

Do you have pictures of all the places we'd be staying at? (the guest houses especially)

As well as what the private transportation will look like (car & model)

I also don't see a final quote, do you mind sending a breakdown per person?

Would the week of October 5th or 12th be open?

Thank you and looking forward to this,
Ami

Hi Maya, Coco and Amy,

Thank you for your time today during the call. It was a pleasure to connect and explore the possibilities for this experience.

Attached you'll find the slides from this morning, compiled as a draft of the programme with a bit more detail on each stop. This is still a working document, a more complete proposal with images, itinerary options and accommodation suggestions is on its way. I'll be back in touch shortly with more options and details.

In the meantime, feel free to reach out with any questions.
